

LOVEHARD: MURDERED BY MURDER

Award winning comedic double-act LoveHard return to Edinburgh for 2017 with their compellingly-titled, brand-new, word-filled, totally-hyphenated show 'Murdered by Murder'.

"One of the most entertaining shows I have ever seen... impossible not to enjoy." ★★★★★ – Broadway Baby (praise for 2016 show)

Eight suspects. One dead body. Two actors. And they're both idiots.

It's 1934. It's Devon. Need we say any more? Yes. It's a small get-together at the household of Lord and Lady Titan, Drenchblood Heights. Reason: A Murder Mystery Party. It promises to be the night of their lives. By which we mean: the night of their, er, deaths.

But with long-held grudges, egos on a knife-edge and somewhat dubious motives, the mystery becomes not the murder mystery, but the murder. Mystery. The six are being picked off one by one, and time is running out. (We have an hour.) The show features a live score by Nick Charlesworth.
